

ABOUT US

This company was started by two young entrepreneurs who began their first company out of Cal Poly. Running the business as young females, they quickly realized how male dominated the industry was and how little resources there were to combat this.

Because habits are formed at a young age, it is imperative to set kids up with the right resources to nurture and grow their confidence, creativity, and problem solving skills from the start; while teaching them imperative business skills that they will remember and use for the rest of their lives.

WHY US?

Allow your little girl to fulfill her dreams of starting a business, making real money, and being a boss! In a male dominated entrepreneurial industry, it is important to teach girls skills early on that will allow them to succeed; such as confidence, money management, sales skills, and creativity. Not to mention 100% of boss girls who purchase one of our boxes actually make a profit!

Boss Girls is a video tutorial and subscription box-based company to teach young girls how to start their own business. The company offers a subscription service along with a single purchase option where girls can buy a box of materials to start a business (such as jewelry making, cookie baking, etc...) along with video tutorials to help them along the way. The tutorials teach girls the hard skills needed with each specific business, including finances, crafting, packaging, and sales; along with videos to empower them to gain confidence in themselves, stand their ground, and network.

“Thanks to Boss Girls, my little girl came out of her shell and grew a sense of confidence I have never seen in her!”
